Charming European Home

On Camelback Country Club Golf Course

Stunning country European home! Featured in Phoenix Home and Garden magazine, it is the late architect George Christensen's last design, built by Desert Star Construction. This home has gorgeous mountain views from one full acre on Camelback Country Club golf course. The sophisticated but cozy great room features dual fireplaces, a double-trussed beamed ceiling, polished concrete flooring, a wall of French doors and a floating staircase. The chef's kitchen has double "L" soapstone counters and island design, a walk-in pantry, wine wall, work center and breakfast room with a fireplace. The beautiful formal dining room is accented with walnut floors and antique doors. In the master wing you will find a wood paneled office and a gorgeous marbled master bath with his/her vanities and walk-in closets. Outside, the pool and spa, guest house, patios, fountains and a sports court complete this charming home. ❖
